General Clean Up Item Information

All general trash and other debris material must be in cans, bags or boxes or bundles or light enough for an individual to handle.

Miscellaneous material must be containerized. Concrete, railroad ties and other such heavy items must be in a size that can be handled by hand by one person.

No tires, tar, hazardous waste (chemicals, liquid, dry, or asbestos etc.) or special waste (contaminated) material to be hauled. No compressed content tanks (gas or other). Note: Paint container(s) that are dried out (liquid free) are alright, note: you can mix it with cat litter or sand to absorb the liquid.

Metal recyclable items, white goods, stoves, refrigerators, furnaces, hot water tanks, farm equipment, anything Stevens Disposal personnel considers recyclable within this category will be accepted. Note: Stevens Disposal personnel opinion is final.

Questionable material or other items will be decided upon by Stevens Disposal personnel, items to be hauled as Stevens Disposal personnel believe best and or safest on-site personnel decision is final.

Stevens Disposal nor its employees are to be responsible for patrons or any damages to vehicles that may arise from our assistance in the handling of items to be disposed of during this clean up or any other clean up. We will also make every attempt to leave the area of the clean-up as we found it, within our ability.
